Ragtime Rags By Joplin Violin

The rag was a modification of the march made popular by John Philip Sousa, with additional polyrhythms coming from African music. It was usually written in 2/4 or 4/4 time with a predominant left-hand pattern of bass notes on strong beats (beats 1 and 3) and chords on weak beats (beat 2 and 4) accompanying a syncopated melody in the right hand. . According to some sources the name "ragtime ...

Dallas Blues holds a place of historical significance in the history of blues, albeit not quite the same place in which it was touted even through the 1990s. It was long considered to be, along with Baby Seals Blues, the first or among the first blues with the word blues in the title. There were pieces preceding this that used the word blues, and there were some blues contained within a ...
